COLORS

Cast Stone is a masonry product used as an architectural feature, trim, ornament or veneer for buildings or other structures. Our Cast Stone is available in 12 standard colors, made from white and/or grey cements, natural sands, and coloring pigments.

DESIGN VERSATILITY

Design versatility is one of the major reasons architects specify cast stone. Natural cut stone is not only expensive to work with, but has design limitations. The nature of cast stone enables the material to be molded into virtually any shape. General specifications for Builders Cast Stone are available on our website.

SHOP DRAWINGS

Shop drawings are provided on every job for architect and owner approval. If you would like a structural engineer to review these drawings as well, just let us know and we'll include this in the bid.
